MilleniumAssociates Names Former GAM Executive To Global Advisory Board

MilleniumAssociates AG has named Denis Raeburn to its global advisory board. A managing director of Global Asset Management (GAM) before its sale to UBS in 1999, Raeburn will be joining a firm which advises on wealth management mergers and acquisitions. Founded by Ray Soudah and headquartered in Zug, MilleniumAssociates has advised on deals including UBS's acquisition of Global Asset Management, Bessemer Trust's purchase of Brundage, Story & Rose LLC, and Swiss Bank Corp's purchase of Brinson Partners. More recently it advised Credit Suisse on the acquisition of JO Hambro Investment Management and its purchase of the Chicago-based family office Frye-Louis Capital Management.
